

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13. 1742.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Rome, Sept. 29.

HE Pope set out last Thursday in the Afternoon for Castel Gandolfo. An odd Contrivance had been set on foot to hinder that Journey, but without Effect. It was confidently given out, that a Contagious Distemper prevailed there, of which Numbers died daily. The Pope being informed of this, declared, That as Retirement was what he sought, he would not be disappointed; and that therefore he would give no Audience to any Minister all next Month. Upon this the former Report gave way to another, that the Malady at Castel Gandolfo was abated, and that those who were seized with it recovered. Cardinal Cibo persists in his Resolution of quitting his Dignity, and after publishing a large Apology for his Conduct, will resign his Hat.

That as Retirement was what he sought, he would not be disappointed; and that therefore he would give no Audience to any Minister all next Month. Upon this the former Report gave way to another, that the Malady at Castel Gandolfo was abated, and that those who were seized with it recovered. Cardinal Cibo persists in his Resolution of quitting his Dignity, and after publishing a large Apology for his Conduct, will resign his Hat.

Milan, Oct. 3. The Marquis d'Aspremont, who is one of the King of Sardinia's Generals, has had a Conference with Count Traun, in which he gave him the Reasons why his Master would not permit his Troops to pass the Panaro, which were principally these Three; viz. That the Spaniards would be ruined by Desertion, if the Allies acted only on the Defensive; that it did not appear they aimed at any Thing more than taking Winter Quarters in the Neighbourhood of Rimini; that when his Master had driven their Countrymen out of Savoy, it would be no difficult Task to be rid of them. How far Mr. Traun was satisfied is uncertain; but he is oblig'd to yield to this Demand for the present. We have Letters from Turin, which say the Spaniards have been actually beaten in Savoy, and that the Piedmontese were Masters of their Baggage.

Genoa, Oct. 9. On the 30th past the King of Sardinia arriv'd at Aoste, and continued there till the 4th instant, on which Day he set out at Four in the Morning, and lay that Night at la Tuile, situated at the Foot of the Little Mount St. Bernard. His Sardinian Majesty was attended by 500 Horsemen and most of his Guards, having left on y a small Number of them at Turin. The Body of the Army which arrives by Morienne, together with that Part which has already passed by the Little Mount St. Bernard, consists of 26 Battalions and 12 Squadrons. The Infant Don Philip is retired to Mian, which lies between Montmellian and the Fortrefs of Barreau, at the Entrance into Dauphine.

Vienna, Oct. 6. Some fresh Propositions have been made to this Court, but without effect. Her Majesty has declared, that as she is vigorously assisted by her Allies, she will never think of Peace without their Consent, and a clear Acknowledgment of her Right to her Hereditary Dominions. Some Hungarian Troops had entered into Consultations about returning home without Leave from their Generals, which Intrigue was discovered and prevented. The Court has written upon it to the Palatine of Hungary, and likewise sent Instructions to the Camp in Bohemia. Colonel Trenk with 500 Men, has defeated a Party of 300 Grenadiers; they were abandoned by 500 Dragoons, so that the Grenadiers were all cut to pieces, and the Officers taken Prisoners.

Plan, Oct. 4. It was Colonel Mentzel with his Grand Corps of Hussars who, by advancing to Satz, a considerable Place on the Egra, and not far from the City of that Name, defeated the Designs formed by Marshal Broglie to join the French Army. As Satz lies between Egra and Leitmaritz into the Neighbourhood of which Marshal Broglie was come, and as Col. Mentzel will be shortly joined by General Festitz and his Forces, we shall be under no Pain either about the Junction of the French Marshals, or their hindring the March of the Saxons to join us, which is what we daily expect. It is evident from the Enemies Conduct, that M. Maillebois is not order'd to fight.

Egra, Oct. 10. Marshal Maillebois, who from the 27th of last Month occupied a very strong Camp near Pramhoff, decamp'd silently on the 5th at 9 in the Evening, march'd all that Night and the next Day, and arriv'd in the Neighbourhood of this City on the 7th about Noon. On the 3d, the Count de Saxe beat the Austrians out of a Village on the Right of their Camp with a considerable Slaughter, and the Prince of Conti who was in the Action behaved with the utmost Intrepidity. The same Day an Officer of Dragoons having taken in his Head to go out to forage without Orders at the Head of 50 Men, he had the Misfortune to meet with a Detachment of Hussars, who cut off Part of his Men and made the rest

Prisoners. The Officer, who made his Escape alone, is confined by M. Maillebois' Orders, and is to be tried. We are not at all surpriz'd at the Arrival of the French Army, for after declining a Battle, as they did, after forcing the Pass at Plan, there was no other Measure for them to take. The Officers, who affect more Heat than Prudence, express much Discontent; but wiser Folks easily enter into the Marshal's Scheme. He will from hence coast along Saxony on the Left, as Marshal Broglie with his 12,000 Men will coast it on the Right, in order to find a favourable Opportunity for joining. Besides, this Method must infallibly prevent the Saxons from marching to the Relief of Prince Charles. Add to all this, the Convenience of removing the Magazines rais'd in Saxony, and thereby securing Provisions for some Months. The Hussars who desert say, that there is a great Scarcity of Provisions in the Austrian Camp, and much more to the like Purpose; but we do not give much Heed to them since we have discover'd the Trade they carry on. In the first place they sell their Horses to the French, next list in their Service, and afterwards desert with all their new Accoutrements back again. We have Cause to understand this perfectly, having been serv'd so by upwards of 400 since the 16th of September last.

Leipzig, Oct. 14. An Officer of Count Saxe's Regiment is just arriv'd, by whom there are Letters from the French Army of the 11th, which set forth, that on the 10th they came before Elenbogen, and summoned the Commander to surrender the Town, which he accordingly did, tho' with Hungarians, Croats, &c. he had above 5000 Men, and was in a Condition to make a long Defence, as even his own Officers thought, for not one of the Hungarians would sign the Capitulation, which was, that they should return with Arms, Baggage, &c. to the Great Duke's Army, still said to be at Konigswarth, and not commit any Hostilities till they arriv'd there. The said Officer adds, that Count Saxe intended to pursue his March towards Leuthmeritz, where he thought Broglie was with the Garrison from Prague.

Hamburg, Oct. 16. We hear that several Waggon's on their Return from the Fair of Leipfick, loaded with different Kinds of Merchandice, have been taken by a Party of French, and conducted to Prague.

A M E R I C A.

South Carolina, July 26. On Friday last the Pilot Boat, which was sent to Virginia by the Governor with the first News of the Spanish Invasion, returned hither; she left Virginia the 12th instant, and brings an Account that Capt. Dandridge, in his Majesty's Ship the South-Sea Castle, of 40 Guns, would sail in two Days after to the Relief of General Oglethorpe. The said Captain was just returned from a Cruise, and having all his Men ready on board, had nothing to do but to take in some more Wood and Water.

By our Letters from Vienna, of the 6th Instant N. S. the Austrian and French Armies in Bohemia remain'd in their former Situation.

Col. Mentzel has had surprizing Success in Bohemia, in obstructing the French Foraging, and defeating their Parties. In three Engagements with considerable Bodies of the Enemy from the 28th ult. to the 2d inst. he always remain'd Master of the Field, and besides their killed and wounded, had sent 224 Prisoners to the main Army, and this with a very inconsiderable Loss on his Side.
